ACNE

Acne is a disorder resulting from the action of hormones and other substances on the skin oil glands and hair follicles. These factors lead to plugged pores and outbreaks of lesions commonly called pimples. Acne lesions usually occur on the face, neck, back, chest and shoulders. Heredity or genetics, certain drugs like androgens and lithium and greasy cosmetics can cause acne. Although acne is usually not a serious health threat, it can be a source of significant emotional distress, psychological and social problems. There are some myths about acne; for example, some people believe that is the result of eating chocolates or greasy food, however, there is no evidence about that. People with acne will make it worse by squeezing or picking at pimples and washing the skin harshly. Dermatologists treat acne depending in the extent of the problem. Situation: Henry wants to read the latest Isabel Allende's book. He googles a review about the new book.

A LONG PETAL OF THE SEA, WRITTEN BY ISABEL ALLENDE

Review by Christine Woolfenden

An intense book about an awful time in Europe's history, bringing to life the suffering of many people. A comprehensive saga that spans 7 decades beginning in 1936 in Spain during the Spanish Civil War; just as dictator Francisco Franco was coming into power. The story centers around Victor Dalmau, a young man who, with his family, has to flee from Spain to France along with many thousands of others to escape the brutality of Franco's reign.

The conditions are horrific both on the road in France and many die along the way. Eventually, Victor escapes to Chile on the Winnepeg, a ship sent out to rescue some of the refugees. The story then follows Victor as he makes a new life in Chile where he finds hardship and love.

This is a period of history that I knew virtually nothing about and found it thoroughly engrossing. It is well written with excellent characterization. Allende brings to life the awfulness of the situation and it is quite shocking to read at times. The story flows along in a fairly simplified way, not too much unnecessary description which can often slow a story down. I think the ending was quiet emotional and didn't disappoint. It was not predictable. A very enjoyable and informative story.

46) The plot goes around _____

- A) The Winnipeg
- B) Victor Dalmau
- C) Franco's dictatorship
- D) The Spanish Civil War

47) The main character of the book _____ in Chile

- B) Touching
- C) Predictable
- D) Uninteresting

50) The reviewer writes that the storyline _____

- C) Lacks description
- D) Has a lot of unnecessary details
